Who's Who in the Cast

Jay Wheeler

Third time is a charm? Last of The Red Hot Lover's makes for Jay's third appearance on the Lyceum stage in as many years. Two years ago he played the part of Juror #2 in Twelve Angry Men - a minor character obsessed with cough drops and with timing crime re-enactments. Last year, Jay had the role of a lifetime, playing the obsessive neurotic neat freak Felix Unger in the Odd Couple. And in this Neil Simon play, Jay again plays the part of a man with an obsession, but of a very different type...

Myrna Stuart

Since moving here in 1998, I have loved every minute of performing on the Lyceum stage in "Second Time Around", "Plaza Suite", "Life with Father", "Funny Money" and "Love Letters". My previous theatre experience was in North Canton, Ohio where I performed with a community theater and guided the building and fund raising for a theatre program as part of the North Canton School District. I can be heard on WMKV-FM in my "Time Spent With You" program. Gary and I miss our 4 children and 5 grandchildren who live in Utah, NYC, Connecticut, Chicago and Washington D.C. but we are happy to say that Glendale and the Lyceum have become our second family. It is a great place to be, indeed.

Jim Wesselman

This is his fourth appearance on the Lyceum stage. Christmas with Anton, 12 Angry Men and Jim shared the stage with that distinguished thespian, Jay Wheeler, in The Odd Couple.

He thanks God he only has to read this time around.

Joe D'Amato

Joe has appeared in The Second Time Around, Plaza Suite, Carnival, Christmas With Anton, Funny Money, The Rebels Are Coming, and Twelve Angry Men. His, Christmas With Anton, was performed in the Fifth Third Theater, at the Aaronoff Center. His direction credits are, Funny Money, Life with Father, his own Christmas With Anton, and Twelve Angry Men. He directed Mike White's , Lyceum production of The Poem.
